Charleston – The West Virginia Humanities Council recently awarded eight new fellowships. The $3,000 grants are awarded annually to college faculty and independent scholars for research and writing projects in the humanities. The Humanities Council offers a variety of grants to nonprofit organizations that support educational programming, budgeting over $800,000 for grants and programs each year. Humanities Council fellowships, unique in West Virginia, are among its most competitive offerings. The 2022 Fellows and their subjects are:

Christina Fattore, Happily Ever After? Investigating the Political Actions of The Romancelandia Community, 2016-2020

Sheena Harris, A Journey to Justice: Olivia America Davidson Washington's Story

Elizabeth James, Katharine Pearson Woods, "Metzerott, Shoemaker", and Her Baltimore Literary Community

Jay Krehbiel, Public Support for the Rule of Law: Personal Convictions and Institutional Constraints

Stefan Schoeberlein, Translating Tom Kromer's "Waiting for Nothing" into German

James F. Siekmeier, A History of the U.S. "War on Drugs" in the Andes in the Late 20th Century

Janet Snyder, Wall-painting and stone sculpture in Medieval Normandy

Sonia Zarco-Real, Neo-coloniality and Resistance Across the Hispanic Atlantic: Catalanism, Indigenismo, and Hispanismo at the Beginning of the Twentieth Century
